UC Merced Club/Organization E-Mail Account Agreement

The use of the club@ucmerced.edu e-mail is a privilege granted to the recognized clubs and organizations at The University of California, Merced. When using an account on clubs@ucmerced.edu, you agree to:

1. Take no actions which violate the Student Code of Conduct, Classified Staff Personnel Policy Manual, or University Handbook for Appointed Personnel.
2. Use the Club/Organization account for appropriate purposes only. Inappropriate uses includes, but is not limited to:
 - Sending harassing messages or, in any way, harassing other computer users
 - Gaining OR attempting to gain, on any computer or network system, access to accounts or files without the owner's permission
 - Playing games (e.g., MUD, etc.)
 - Advertising
 - Making unauthorized copies of any copyright-protected software, regardless of source
 - Taking action that threatens the security of the computer system, or that destroys or damages computer resources.
3. Use the account only for business of the Club/Organization the account is created for. The account is being created for the organization, and no personal business should be conducted through this account. The signers of this agreement are acting as representatives of the organization, and all files and contents of the account are owned by the organization, not the person(s) with access to the account

_____ Yes, I have read, understood and agree with these statements. If I do not agree, my Club/Organization account will not be enabled. Failure to abide by these policies will result in revocation of my Club/Organization privileges to use UC Merced computing facilities. Although there are backup procedures in place, and since recoverability of data cannot be guaranteed, use of my account is at my risk. The courts consider files, data and disks as UC Merced property and, therefore, subject to subpoena. Although the amount of space allocated on the clubs.ucmerced.edu server is limited, the server should not be used as storage medium for files that are not used actively by the club's e-mail.

_____ Yes, I understand that I am the primary person responsible for this account and I am advised that no more than two (2) persons are recommended to have access to this account.

Is this a new or existing account? _____ New _____ Existing
